 These two teams were logged into the same account for 90 minutes due to a mistake by the contest managers, and because they were working in different languages, both experienced a very unreliable programming environment.
   The judge determined that in consequence the contest did not properly distinguish which team was 4th and which 5th, and that a score revision was a feasible and appropriate expression of the situation. The judge adjusted scores by subtracting 36 minutes 25.5 seconds from the scores of every problem that the two afflicted teams got correct, choosing the size of this adjustment to create a tie for 4th and 5th.
